WELCOME TO GEORGETOWN

President’s Interfaith & Community Service Campus Challenge

GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY
Please Join Us: Sukkot Reception

The Georgetown Jewish Chaplaincy warmly invites all President’s Challenge participants to a Sukkot Reception in our sukkah designed for us by BanG Studio, the Peoples’ Choice Award Winners of Sukkah City NYC 2010.

The reception will include light refreshments and a brief ritual as we fulfill the mitzvot of Sukkot.

Where: Healy Lawn sukkah
When: Monday, September 23rd, 6:15 PM (immediately after conference ends for the day)
Come and go as you like, the ritual will be from 6:30 to 6:45 PM

All are also welcome to dwell in the sukkah at any time during the duration of the conference. Feel free to bring your lunch, take a break, have a snack, anything you like. The sukkah is kosher, and there will be lulav and etrog for use.
About Georgetown University

Established in 1789, Georgetown is the nation’s oldest Catholic and Jesuit university. Drawing upon this legacy, we provide students with a world-class learning experience focused on educating the whole person through exposure to different faiths, cultures and beliefs. With our Jesuit values and location in Washington, D.C., Georgetown offers students a distinct opportunity to learn, experience and understand more about the world. Georgetown is comprised of four schools: the College, the School of Foreign Service, the Business School, and the School of Nursing and Health Studies. Currently, over 7,000 undergraduate students attend Georgetown. The school colors are blue and gray, and the school mascot is Jack, the bulldog.

About the Berkley Center for Religion, Peace, and World Affairs

The Berkley Center for Religion, Peace, and World Affairs at Georgetown University, created within the Office of the President in 2006, is dedicated to the interdisciplinary study of religion, ethics, and public life. Through research, teaching, and service, the center explores global challenges of democracy and human rights; economic and social development; international diplomacy; and interreligious understanding. Two premises guide the center’s work: that a deep examination of faith and values is critical to address these challenges, and that the open engagement of religious and cultural traditions with one another can promote peace.

About the Doyle Engaging Difference Initiative

The Doyle Engaging Difference Initiative is a campus-wide collaboration between the Berkley Center and the Center for New Designs in Learning and Scholarship to strengthen the university’s core commitment to tolerance and diversity and to enhance global awareness of the challenges and opportunities of an era of increasing interconnectedness. The Doyle Initiative supports the work of the President’s Challenge on campus.
About the Center for Social Justice Research, Teaching and Service

Dedicated since its founding in 1789 to excellence in education that is rooted in service to the Church and to the democratic ideals of the new nation, Georgetown University entered the third millennium with a firmly grounded commitment to “justice and the common good,” as its mission statement proclaims. The Center for Social Justice Research, Teaching and Service (CSJ), which opened its doors in January 2001, is a concrete and imaginative manifestation of that commitment. In order to advance justice and the common good, CSJ promotes and integrates community-based research, teaching and service by collaborating with diverse partners and communities.

About Campus Ministry and the Office of Mission and Ministry

The Office of Mission and Ministry advances the Catholic identity, Ignatian heritage, and Jesuit mission of Georgetown University, the oldest Catholic and Jesuit university in the country. The office supports the integration of learning, faith and service through a broad array of programs that engage students, faculty, staff, University leadership, and alumni in the understanding and practice of our religious identity, values and commitments. Each year, thousands of individuals participate in the programs of the Office of Mission and Ministry: retreats, seminars, lectures, national and international immersion experiences, service projects, and opportunities for worship and spiritual reflection on campus, on location, and on-line. As a Catholic and Jesuit university, we respect and value the wide variety of religious and humanist perspectives of our colleagues. We strive to represent a “centered pluralism” in our offerings and respectfully engage the particular traditions represented in our community.
Main Gates to Gaston Hall (on the top floor of Healy Hall)
From the University’s main entrance on 37th and O Streets, walk towards the John Carroll statue and enter Healy Hall from the right-most entrance. From there, go through the entry-way to the left, and take the first set of stairs to the top floor.

Gaston Hall to ICC (the Bunn Intercultural Center)
From Gaston Hall, descend the stairs and exit Healy. Facing the front gates, follow the path to your left until you reach the square of red bricks (known as Red Square). The entrance to ICC will be at the far end of Red Square to the left. When you enter the ICC you will be on the third floor. Straight ahead to the back of the galleria to the right, there are steep stairs that lead directly down to the Auditorium.

Gaston Hall to Copley Formal Lounge
From outside Healy Hall, when facing the front gates, follow the path to your left until you reach the beginning of Red Square. Copley Formal Lounge is located in the stone building adjacent to the ICC, facing Red Square.

Gaston Hall to the Leavey Center
From outside Healy Hall, when facing the front gates, follow the path, and continue straight through red square. Follow the path through the archway, up the steps, and past the Reiss building. At the end of the path, turn left up the steps, and you will see the Leavey Center. Bulldog Alley and Makóm breakout sessions are here.

Gaston Hall to the Rafik B. Hariri Building of the McDonough Business School
From outside Healy Hall, follow the directions to the Leavey Center. Once inside, turn left before the bookstore, and continue past the coffee shop (Uncommon Grounds), which should be to your right. Cut through Selinger lounge, and continue through a set of double doors at the back right of the room. Continue through the hallway, and exit the glass doors to your right that lead into a brick courtyard. In front of you, you’ll see the Hariri Building of the Business School.

Gaston Hall to Epicurean
From outside Healy Hall, follow the directions to the Leavey center, but don’t go up the steps. From the bottom of the Leavey steps, continue straight past Henle Village and Darnall Hall, to your right. Epicurean will be to your right, just after Darnall Hall.
